OPEN PROJECTS

Health Behavioral Health Medical Director	This is a remote, part-time Behavioral Health Medical Director role requiring about 20 hours per week, ideally Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday during Eastern time, with no weekend work. The focus is primarily adult psychiatry with a heavy emphasis on substance use cases. Responsibilities include conducting utilization and coverage reviews, applying InterQual and ASAM guidelines, documenting determinations to meet regulatory and accreditation requirements, completing peer-to-peer discussions with treating providers as needed, and making medical-necessity decisions for appeals and grievances and supporting quality and accreditation initiatives. Requirements include an MD or DO, board certification and a current unrestricted Pennsylvania physician license, along with 5+ years of post-residency clinical experience and 3+ years of managed care, utilization review or quality management experience.
Life Underwriting Consultant	This remote role is for Life Underwriting Consultants to evaluate high-volume, AI-enhanced life insurance cases, including RUW and no-exam workflows typically at $1M and under. Responsibilities include reviewing cases routed for human decisioning, using third-party and digital evidence and applying strong production underwriting judgment while working within an AI and rules-based decision engine. The role also involves accurate risk assessment, clear documentation and partnering with the team to continuously improve decision processes, escalating cases that require additional evidence when needed. Requirements include proven production life underwriting experience and comfort with automated and AI decision tools, such as LLM and ML models. Schedule flexibility is valued, including availability for a weekend day.
Property and Casualty Senior Commercial Lines Actuary	This is a long-term, fully remote actuarial project for a Senior Commercial Lines Actuary looking to make a clear impact. The role involves helping modernize a commercial lines policy platform by pulling and translating rating inputs, working closely with business and technical partners and supporting conversion testing as new products and states roll out. Ideal candidates bring commercial lines actuarial experience, strong SAS or SQL skills, comfort working with large datasets and solid Excel skills. Guidewire exposure is a plus but not required.
Life QA Engineer	A remote Quality Assurance Engineer with Python skills is needed for a 6+ month consulting project at 40 hours per week, supporting mission-critical, data-driven applications that leverage AI and sensitive medical and EHR data. Responsibilities include building and maintaining automated test frameworks, creating scalable test coverage across API, integration, regression and end-to-end workflows, and integrating those tests into CI/CD pipelines for continuous feedback. This is a hands-on, code-heavy QA role with daily Python work that is automation-focused, with minimal to no manual testing expected. The role also involves partnering closely with engineering and product teams to uncover defects, improve quality processes and report meaningful QA metrics. Playwright experience is a plus.
Property and Casualty Operations Specialist	This role joins an optimization and transformation team as an Operations Specialist focused on improving insurance operations across underwriting, sales, claims and shared services. Responsibilities include leading discovery sessions, mapping end-to-end workflows, identifying bottlenecks and helping design future-state operating models that support platform migrations, digital transformation and automation, as well as partnering closely with field teams to drive continuous improvement, translating business needs into clear requirements and supporting adoption of new processes and tools. Ideal candidates bring 5+ years of insurance operations experience, strong stakeholder engagement skills and hands-on process analysis and mapping capability.
